

English Language Learning Opportunities for multilingual students

The ELL Project provides support to multilingual undergraduate students in the Faculty of Arts and Science. Be proactive and improve your English this year!

Reading eWriting (online activity) – start any time

- Reading requirements in university courses are heavy! Reading eWriting is an effective method for increasing reading speed, expanding academic vocabulary, and improving your critical responses.
- This program gives you an opportunity to engage in an email conversation with an instructor, who will respond to your ideas and to your use of language.
- Sign up by contacting the ELL Coordinator at ell.newcollege@utoronto.ca. Reading eWriting is free and open to all undergraduate students in the Faculty of Arts and Science.

Communication Café – interactive language activities for advanced speaking practice

Thursdays 5:00-6:30 WW 123

Sept 17, 24; Oct 1, 8, 15

OR

Fridays 12:30-2:00 WI 2002

Sept 18, 25; Oct 2, 9, 16

- The Café is designed to help you develop vocabulary and discussion strategies needed in your courses. Café participation can also enhance your ability to think critically and respond quickly.
- You'll have an opportunity to meet new people and to develop leadership skills. This advanced speaking practice is suitable for multilingual students in all years.
- No advance registration is necessary; just drop in. Bring a bag lunch if you wish. The Café is free and open to all undergraduates in the Faculty of Arts and Science.

For further information, visit our website: www.newcollege.utoronto.ca/ell.

Or contact Leora Freedman, ELL Coordinator, by email at: ell.newcollege@utoronto.ca.

You can also join our ELL listserv (see directions on our webpage).